GEE, DAD, YOU'RE SWELL!

It is a wise father who takes time out now and then to be chummy with his boy and to participate in his sports. The lad in the picture beams his pleasure as his dad prepares to "pitch him a few."

The bond of companionship between a good father and his son is one of the most helpful influences that can come into the life of a boy. Boys who enjoy such companionship seldom go astray.

What a striking contrast we observe in the other picture! The guilt and fear are written on the face of the boy with the stolen fruit. He has started on the long and painful road that leads to disaster.

Juvenile delinquency is one of the great social problems of our time. Unwholesome influences are abroad in the world to lead children astray. Without parental guidance, many of them drift into evil ways.

Parents need the help of God and the counsel of the Church in meeting this responsibility.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

It is the duty of every Christian to support the church financially. The church is the body of Christ, and it is through the church that we can best serve God and our fellow men. Every Christian should contribute to the support of the church in proportion to his ability. This is a commandment of God, and it is one that every Christian should obey. The church is the foundation of our faith, and it is through the church that we can best live out our faith in the world. Every Christian should contribute to the support of the church in proportion to his ability. This is a commandment of God, and it is one that every Christian should obey.

"DELIVERANCE AND RETURN" Isaiah 45: 1-4; Ezra 1: 1-7
By Dr. Archie E. Brown
GOLDEN TEXT: "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth; for I am God, and there is none else." (Isaiah 45: 22)

INTRODUCTION: History repeats itself. We mean by this that a study of history will show that many events in history seem to happen all over again. It seems that man has a difficult time remembering that God has his guiding hand upon the nations. It is when man goes against God's will that he causes confusion for himself. The same is equally true of homes and nations.

It seems rather strange to us that Israel did not understand the leadership of God well enough to follow Him. Does it not seem that, after their first disobedience and punishment, they would never disobey again? It does seem strange until we examine our own hearts and the actions of our own nation. One battle scar does not heal before another one is on its way.

I. GOD LEADS NATIONS (Isaiah 45: 1-4)
Who would ever have thought that the strong nation, Babylon, could be "overthrown"? Certainly not many in Israel believed it. They were the slaves, and captives in Babylon. Yet, Jeremiah had told them that God had promised that they should be free within seventy years. Why did they not believe him? For the same reason that you do not believe the preacher, God's spokesman today.

The history of Israel is the record of God's dealings with a nation. In fact all of history is a record of God's dealings with the nations of the world. Your life's history is a record of His dealings with you as an individual.

Just when Babylon was feeling her strength, and Israel was feeling her weakness, God was preparing King Cyrus and his nation to free Israel and destroy Babylon. My! When will people and nations ever learn that God marches ahead of history?

II. GOD HAS A PLAN (Isaiah 45: 4, 13)
God never acts without a purpose. He has a purpose for everything that happens in nations and with individuals. Let us never forget that! It is our duty to look for God's purpose.

Romans 8: 28 is as true today as the day God first caused it to be written. It states frankly that: "All things work together for good to them that love the Lord and are called according to his purpose." Not "some things," but "all things" happen for the best, if you love the Lord.

When you meet with tragedy, did you recognize the hand of God in that tragedy? When you find that loved one to rest, did you recognize that as being God's will? When the waters of your life were troubled, did you see God in it all? Or, when those wonderful blessings came, did you recognize God's hand in it all. Yes, it is always best to look for the purpose of God in all things in one's life.

III. LOOK FOR GOD'S PURPOSE (Ezra 1: 1-4)
God spoke to a heathen king by the name of Cyrus. Be it to the everlasting credit of Cyrus that he answered God's call. He was "stirred up" in his spirit. God had to keep his promise to deliver his people, Israel, out of captivity. Did you know that God has a storehouse full of blessings, with your name written on them, in heaven? He has! He may never get to deliver all of them, however. Delivery depends upon your calling for them. "Ask and ye shall receive; seek and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you."

CONCLUSION: Only a small part of the children of Israel returned to the Promise Land. Their number was about 42,000. Why did not the others return? Because they were satisfied to settle down in worldly Babylon and live. Oh, my soul! How many people there are today who are willing to settle down among worldly, sinful things, and literally sell their opportunity to enter the "Promised Land."

How about you, friend? What price are you asking for your soul? Is it pleasure? Is it money, fame or fortune? Is it popularity? Whatever it is that keeps you from God's will, you are selling out cheap—maybe, cheap.

Super Carrier On Trial Run
NEWPORT NEWS VESSEL
The super carrier Forrester, which is being ducked a possible date with Hurricane Diane two weeks ago, sailed on her first trial run today.
The gigantic 50,650-ton flat-top, hailed by the Navy as "the most powerful weapon in naval history," makes its run into the Atlantic, unconcerned about the new Hurricane Edith.
The Forrester, one of the most controversial ships in U. S. naval history, had been scheduled to make its first trial voyage on Aug. 15 for its builder, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. But Hurricane Diane cancelled that.
Now the builder's sea trial has been combined with the Navy's preliminary acceptance test into one cruise.

Quest for Asian Peace
BY BRUCE BISSAT
The tide of negotiations between the United States and Red China moves slowly at Geneva. The conferences cannot seem to get past the question of the return of 41 U. S. civilians held by the Reds.
If the discussions stick on so relatively minor an issue as this, one may well imagine how they might bog down over the matter of a settlement at Formosa or other major danger spots in the Far East.

Still, the Red Chinese continue to indicate that they want a peaceful solution of the Formosa question and similar explosive issues.
And, however long drawn out and perhaps unfruitful these talks might prove to be, the United States obviously is committed not to turn its back on the conference table.

Actually, as Keyes Beech of the Chicago Daily News Foreign Service recently observed, "Peiping's peace" approach works a considerably greater hardship on two other participants in the Asian drama: Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China and President Syngman Rhee of South Korea.

"The hopes of both men thrive on tensions," Beech writes from Tokyo. "To put it bluntly, they need a war."

That's a harsh statement, but it appears to be painfully true.
Chiang knows full well that short of general war in Asia, there is no prospect that the United States will assist him in an attempted return from Formosa to the Chinese mainland.

By the same token, Rhee understands that the 1953 Korean truce shifted the struggle for a united Korea to the political arena. He realizes that a political solution is remote, and that only a big war would produce the kind of fluidity in Asia that would once more open the way for military operations against Communist North Korea.

The evidence of their public utterances suggests that Chiang and Rhee — especially the latter — are willing to have the world take the gamble of a general Asian war in the hope it will allow fulfillment of their dreams.
Naturally America is not sympathetic to this approach. But it is thoroughly sympathetic with the goals of these two leaders, who still are ranged on the side of freedom in the Asian struggle.

Americans are deeply regretful, too, that the turn of events and the circumstances of military power in Asia have made it so difficult for these uncompromising foes of communism to realize their aspirations.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Big Corporations Get New Long-Term Power Licenses From Power Commission; Alcoa, Montana Power, And Pacific Gas And Electric Are Favored; Companies Waited For New Commissioners To Take Office.

WASHINGTON — To understand the bitter battle over hydroelectric power and the lobbying pressures behind it you have to go back to the days when any utility could go to any river and build a dam wherever it wanted regardless of the effect on people downstream or elsewhere.

Finally, in 1920, Congress stopped this, citing the constitution which provides that navigable streams are under the jurisdiction of the United States, not of a single state. Congress required that the federal government must regulate the leasing of water-power dam sites and established a federal power commission to issue these licenses. Congress further specified that they could be for 50 years or less, after which the utility would have to amortize its investment, make a profit and the dam site would be available for public use.

However, believe it or not, the new Eisenhower Federal Power

Commissioners are now in the process of issuing leases for 99 years, not 50 years.
To show how they are issuing these extra licenses and to illustrate the power of certain big corporations, take a look at the case of Aluminum Corporation of America, the Mellon-controlled giant which once had a complete monopoly on aluminum and was the object of a Justice Department suit to break that monopoly.

ADAMANT ALCOA
Alcoa was so adamant in its refusal to have its hydroelectric power leases regulated by the federal government that in 1941 it refused to build a power plant on the Little Tennessee river despite approaching world war and the urgent need of aluminum for the airplane industry.

Alcoa on October 1, 1940, had filed a declaration of intent to build the power plant, but finally withdrew it, rather than to submit to federal regulation.

This caused the Federal Power Commissioners, then under Roosevelt, to state, on March 8, 1941:
"Notwithstanding the public interest Alcoa, through its subsidiaries, in effect demonstrated that it is unwilling to accept the reasonable limitations on unearned increment in the value of its power project provided by Congress in the federal power acts."

The Fontana situation is not the only instance in which Alcoa and its subsidiaries have shown complete unwillingness to accept provisions of the federal law regardless of the consequences to the national defense for the public which they serve," the FPC continued.
"The refusal of Alcoa's subsidiary to construct the Fontana project when required to obtain a license indicates that not even the urgent demand of national defense can alter its apparent determination never willingly to submit any of its hydro projects to the duly enacted requirement of federal law."

THIRTEEN YEARS OF LITIGATION
Meanwhile Alcoa continued to buck the FPC regarding the licensing of three power plants already built on the Little Tennessee and Cherokee rivers near the Tennessee-North Carolina border. When Andy Mellon was secretary of the Treasury and one of the most potent industrial figures in America, his aluminum company got away with this. But in 1941, the FPC under Roosevelt took steps to compel a license.

Thirteen years of bitter litigation followed. Finally almost a year ago, October 25, 1954, with new GOP commissioners on the FPC, Alcoa applied for a license.
But in doing so, it devised a new package plan. It lumped the three old, unlicensed projects into a package with a new "Talassee" development.

So the obnoxious new power commission did not issue a license retroactively to cover the back years Alcoa had been operating without a license. Instead, on March 17, 1955, it handed Alcoa a lush bonanza. It granted a license for the entire package which will not expire until 2005 A. D.

Another big company to get in on the package license bonanza is Montana Power, organized by the great Electric Bond and Share company. A. Mitchell, a former official of Electric Bond and Share and son of its founder, Sidney Z.
Mitchell, has been Herbert Hoover's right hand man on the Government Reorganization Commission and was responsible for much of its anti-public-power recommendations.

Montana Power had eight power plants on the Missouri river built between 1906 and 1930 which were never licensed. The FPC in 1943 brought suit to require licenses and did not win until after almost ten years of battling. Finally in 1952 Montana Power applied for eight licenses and on February 3, 1953, was given one of the eight, retroactively, to expire in 1979.

HELPFUL DELAY
This did not please Montana Power at all. However, this was only 15 days after Eisenhower took office and the old Truman FPC commissioners were still acting. So Montana Power asked for a rehearing, and put a "package" plan before the new Eisenhower commissioners.

It lumped eight old dam sites with a single new proposal, and on June 14, 1955, applied for a single license to cover the nine dams.
If the FPC continues its present procedure, as it seems sure to do, the license will now expire in 2005 A. D. Since one dam was built in 1906 this would make a total lease of 99 years.

Third company to stretch out its leases is Pacific Gas and Electric, whose president James Black attends Ike's state dinners and is a member of Secretary Sinclair Weeks' Business Advisory Council.

Black has two dams, the Caribou and Almonor developments in California due to expire in 1968. So on January 19, 1955, the new Federal Power Commission gave Pacific Gas and Electric a new license for a "package," covering these two old projects plus two proposed new projects called "Beldon" and "Caribou No. 2" and obligingly extended a license until 2004 A. D.

In addition, PG & E "packaged" its Strawberry and Relief dams on the Stanislaus river near San Francisco, due to expire in 1986, with its Melones reservoir power plant, due to expire in 1977.

The FPC then came through with a brand new package license extending up to 2005 A. D.

Letter, Newspaper File Tell of Lincoln's Association with Jews, Masonic Order

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — New light is shed on Abraham Lincoln's association with the Jews and with the Masonic order by a recently discovered letter and newspaper article, according to articles in the summer issue of the Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society which will be out this week.
Dr. Bertram W. Korn, rabbi of Reform Congregation Keneseth of Philadelphia, tells of a newly found letter which Lincoln wrote on Nov. 4, 1862, to Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton saying: "I believe we have not yet appointed a Hebrew—As Cherie M. Levy, is well vouched as a capable and faithful man, let him be appointed an Assistant Quarter-Master, with the rank of Captain."

Dr. Korn's article cites this and other references to Jews in Lincoln's writings which he concludes show that Lincoln was "conscious of the anti-Semitic prejudices which rose to a high point during the tensions and crises of the Civil War and went out of his way to be kind to Jews."

The newly discovered newspaper article is one "The Masonic Tewel" which was published in Springfield. Only a few copies of this paper are known to exist but the Illinois State Historical Library recently acquired a bound volume of its first five years, 1862 to 1866.
The editor was Harman G. Reynolds who said he had known Lincoln since 1840.

In the issue of May 15, 1865, the first after the assassination, he published a number of poems, articles, letters and editorials about Lincoln. One of these reveals that Lincoln had considered becoming a Mason but at the time "no one had asked him to join." Later "he made up his mind to be initiated but after thinking the matter over he said that he would be liable to be charged with wrong motives," so he deferred "the matter to some future time."

Among the other articles in the Historical Society's Journal is a biographical sketch of the Rev.

William H. Milburn, the blind preacher from Jacksonville who became chaplain of Congress and an internationally famous lecturer.
Author of the article is Dr.
Clarence P. McClelland, president emeritus of MacMurray College, Jacksonville. The Rev. Mr. Milburn knew Lincoln and wrote that one of his boyhood recreations on his visits to Springfield was to loaf in front of James Lamb's store at the southeast corner of the square until Lincoln would stop by for a story-telling session.

Martin to Play With Yankees on 34-Day Furlough

FORT CARSON, Colo. — Bill (The Kid) Martin, the guy who led the New York Yankees to their last world championship in 1953, will trade his Army corporal's stripes for one of Casey Stengel's pin stripes when he begins a 34 day leave this week.

Martin was not scheduled for discharge until Oct. 8 but he can take his 34 days of accrued leave when ever he desires. A reliable source said he probably would apply for the leave today and had already purchased plane tickets for a Tuesday flight to Kansas City where he will join the team.

Martin was not available for comment because he was on a week end pass, but he wasn't expected to have anything to say when he returned to the post. The spokesman said Martin was told not to comment publicly because the club wanted to remain on good terms with the Army.

However, Martin was expected to submit his leave application to the commanding officer today, and it was to be acted upon immediately.

Strike Over, But Mrs. Quigley's Spouse Still Out

CHICAGO (U.P.) — The two week strike at the Harrison Sheet Steel Co. officially ended today. Mrs. Esther Quigley, herself went to the plant for a first hand check and saw the men return to their jobs.

The red haired housewife whose actions have made the walkout a lively news item said all of the strikers were back with the exception of her husband, Andrew.

Andrew, who has been locked out of Mrs. Quigley's apartment pending strike settlement will return Tuesday, company officials said. He and four other strike leaders were fired last week, but the firm has agreed to take them back.

Never A Match Race Like Swaps-Nashua-McCarthy

By CLEM MCCARTHY
Written for NEA Service

CHICAGO (U.P.) — The two week swap race between the two horses, D. J. Nashua and D. J. McCarthy, has been running since the start of the season. The two horses have been in a close race, with Nashua leading in the early part of the season and McCarthy taking over in the latter part.

I have seen a dozen or more match races, starting with the dead heat between D. J. Nashua and D. J. McCarthy in the 1954 season. The two horses have been in a close race, with Nashua leading in the early part of the season and McCarthy taking over in the latter part.

Ben F. Jones, who has been in the harness racing business for many years, said that the swap race between Nashua and McCarthy is one of the most exciting he has ever seen. He said that the two horses are both of the same breed, and that they are both of the same color, which makes the race even more interesting.

Australia Shuts Out Americans For Davis Cup

By STEVE SNIDER
United Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. — Australia won the Davis Cup today with a 3-0 shutout and threatened today to snatch another bit of hardware from America's tennis showcase by winning the U. S. men's singles crown in a 10-day grind beginning Friday.

Ken Rosewall, Lew Hoad and Rex Hartwig, a trio of "whiz kids" whose sensational play produced the worst American defeat in 20 years of Davis Cup play, were one to three of the best of favorites for the next big show at Forest Hills and even Aussie Captain Harry Hopman couldn't say which was in the best form.

All three looked tremendous as they completed a three-day sweep in the Davis Cup challenge round Sunday and regained the trophy they surrendered only last December to Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Vasek Seixas of Philadelphia.

Hoad in Top Form

Hoad walloped Trabert in four sets on the first day and tripped Seixas in four Sunday. Rosewall bowled over Seixas in four sets on the first day and defeated Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., a substitute for Trabert, in the four set, wind up. In between, Hoad paired with Hartwig to score the clinching victory in a five set doubles match against Seixas and Trabert on Saturday.

Except to prove they could win even when the pressure was off, Sunday's matches proved little Hoad lost a set to Seixas, who had beaten him eight of 10 previous matches, but rallied to make it a rout, 7-9 6-1 6-4 6-4. Then Rosewall trounced Richardson, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1 6-4 to complete a 5-0 score for the Aussies.

Eagles Look Good in Pro Grid League

By JOE SARGIS
United Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA — East Carolina University's football team, the Eagles, moved over from the defunct All America Conference to the top of the season. The Eagles, who just missed defeating the Browns last year, have shown versatility, speed and a sturdy defense in winning three exhibitions thus far while the Browns, with a 12 exhibition record including an embarrassing loss to the College All Stars, have the same old tight defense but an attack that has shown signs of spitting after nine years of peak performance.

Reliable Pete Pihos caught two touchdowns. Bobby Walston led two field goals and quarter back Alvin Runk handled himself admirably, leading the Eagles to a 27-0 victory over the Chicago Bears during the week end, while Cleveland bowed to the San Francisco Forty Niners, 17-14.

Legion Blasts Out 13-1 Win Over Newburgh

The Harrisburg Legion baseball team continued its torrid hitting pace Sunday afternoon as they downed a line looking Newburgh, first club by a 13-1 score at the local park diamond.

Fourteen hits were racked up by the locals in scoring their runs, with a home run by Dick Odle, two triples by Bob Dallas and a triple and double by Harold Gulley being the big blows.

Don Wallace pitched all the way for the Legion and raced up his fifth win without a loss since joining the club recently. Wallace allowed the visitors but seven safes and their only run crossed the plate in the ninth inning after the locals had built up their massive lead.

The Legion started the onslaught early when they scored three times in the bottom of the first inning on a walk to Odle and triples by Gulley and Dallas, followed by McNew's single. Odle jammed off his line drive homer in the second and added another marker and the home team practically broke up the ball game in the fifth when they tallied four more runs. Odle again led off the inning with a single and Williams walked after which Griffiths singled to load the bases. Logsdon singled to drive Gulley across with the fourth run of the inning. Singles by Odle, Williams and Gulley netted the Legion their ninth run in the sixth and the locals came up with four unearned runs in the seventh to run their total to 13 when the visitors committed three fielding errors after two were out.

B. Garrett, C. Garrett and Groover toiled on the hill for the losers with Callis doing the catching. Dick Romonosky caught all the way for the Legion.

The Legion will play at Uniontown, Ky., Labor Day when they face Big Jim Bumpus and his Cardinals again. Definite arrangements have not as yet been completed for a Sunday game with the Old Hickory Barons at Gallatin, Tenn., but it is expected that the locals will play three barring any unforeseen hitches on Sept. 4.

A. L. Contenders Cannot Keep from Losing; Indians Drop 2, Sox, Yanks Split

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

The American League pennant race has turned into a losing proposition and the faltering Yankees seem quite content to back into the World Series since no one else shows any signs of heading them off.

The Yankees were in first place by a half game today but they got there more or less by default.

Cleveland paved the way by dropping a doubleheader to Washington Sunday while the bucking Bronx Bombers, who have dropped three of their last four games, split a twin bill with the White Sox.

It's a toss up which club is playing the worst ball. League-leading New York, second place Chicago or third place Cleveland. The White Sox, who had a chance to take over first place Sunday, have dropped five of their last eight while the Indians, now one game off the pace, have lost four of their last six.

At the current pace the league could come up with its weakest World Series representative since the Tigers won the 1945 pennant with a meager total of 88 victories.

Kennedy Wins Nightcap

Home runs by Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra helped White Ford to his 15th victory as the Yankees won the opener, 6-1. But a three-run homer by Bob Kennedy in the first inning stood up all the way to give the White Sox a 3-2 triumph in the nightcap.

The Senators chased Art Houtteman to win the opener, 8-2, behind a brilliant one-hit relief job by southpaw Chuck Stobbs, who in the last 6 1/3 innings, and pounded out 15 hits, including four by Eddie Yost to cap the nightcap, 13-4. Washington broke a tall tie and routed Mike Garcia with an eight-run burst in the seventh.

Eddie Joost poked two home runs and Grady Hinton and Ted Williams one each as the Red Sox mauled the Athletics, 14-2. Hinton's homer came with the bases loaded in the first inning, and big Frank Sullivan coasted to his 16th victory after that.

The scheduled game between the Orioles and Tigers was postponed because of rain.

The Dodgers gained a game and a half increase, their National League lead to 11 games by beating the Cardinals, 4-1, while the second place Braves bowled twice to the last place Pirates, 5-3 and 2-0.

Cards Eliminated

Karl Spooner pitched his first complete game of the season for the Dodgers while eliminating the Cards from any mathematical chance of winning the pennant. Spooner struck out nine in a 4-1 upset six hits, including a homer by Rip Repulski. Gil Hodges and Erv Campanella homered for the Dodgers.

Despite homers by Eddie Matthews and Bobby Thomson the Pirates rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to overcome a 3-0 Milwaukee lead in the first inn of their doubleheader while Vern Lewin hit a four hitter to out pitch clean Warren Spahn and rack up

HOLLYWOOD TODAY!
MOVIES - TV - RADIO
by Erskine Johnson
HOLLYWOOD — NEA — Hollywood and Grapevine. Kid star Brandon de Wilde of "Come Back, Shane" fame is about to retire at the age of 13 to attend regular school classes and to live his parents' life. The film version of the hit novel "Goodbye, Mr. Tom" is good bye for Brandon until he's old enough to decide for himself whether he will be doctor, lawyer or come back actor.
Announced reason: Rising costs. Inside explanation: Industry in crisis.

There's a new twist on the Hollywood double cross — the double tap. Two executives struggling for power at a major film studio don't know it, but each has his telephone tapped — by the other.
U. I. executives have just about given up trying to persuade Jean Peters to sign on the dotted line as Audie Murphy's co-star in "The Charles Russell Story." It isn't the script, it's the backround. Years ago Jean and Audie were a hot romantic item.

There's a "Where do I go from here?" look on the face of Ruth Hudson, who returns to U. I. soon after the best role of his career in "Giant" at Warner Bros. Whether his roles will remain in high gear is a big question he's commenting on only with a curious "it remains to be seen." JAMES DEAN AND Chill Wills crossed words during the Texas location scenes for the same film. Said Dean: "You don't like me do you?" Said Chill: "I don't know — give me a little time."

But now it's Chill, enthusing about Dean's acting ability. "I saw this lad do a scene and we're all going to be paintings on a back drop."
Producer Henry Ginsberg shrugs off Dean's one-day AWOL from the set with "You always have your little problems." There was a ship-up. I've heard of previous difficulties with him—but not on this picture.

Now that she's definitely decided on a show business career, 18-year-old Cathy Crosby is in a 10-to-12 hour daily whirl of vocal lessons, ballet interviews and recording sessions. Other day papa Bob asked her: "Well, what's the toughest part of it all?" There was no question in Cathy's mind. "Dieting," she replied.

Paramount would like to team Bill Holden and Silvana Mangano in a movie. Judy Garland's slumped down to 115 pounds for her TV debut next month.
